In Accordance to Archbishop Alexander's Directives: Everyone should come to Church wearing a mask, except infants under the age of 2 (the requirements for our state are stricter than Archbishop Alexander's directives). Please enter through the west double doors, and then wash your hands in the restrooms before going to a designated spot in the Nave that will allow you to observe the required social distancing. When you come to Holy Communion, continue to maintain the social distancing from other communicants. We will not use the red cloths, rather each person is to take a tissue that will be provided and hold it under one's chin (parents please hold the tissue for your children). Please don't wipe your lips with the tissue, but simply hold the tissue as a precaution, preventing the Holy Mysteries from falling accidentally on the ground. If there is any of the Communion left on your lips, simply consume it. The tissues should be left in a white container provided for that purpose. In accordance with the Archbishop's request, we'll use grain alcohol to cleanse the spoon after each communicant. Obviously, remove your mask right before coming for Communion and then promptly put it back on. In compliance to our Hierarch's directive, we'll not be offering zapifka (wine mixed with warm water in a glass container) and antidoron (blessed bread) right after Communion.

Until further notice, please refrain from kissing Icons and other Holy objects, priest's hand, etc. Simply cross yourself and make a reverence before the Icons.
